BABES Training!

(Beginning Awareness Basic Education Studies)

Featuring Master Trainer & Presenter Kate LaMonica

"The BABES Program has a great way of presenting complex information to young children." - Delaware County Elementary Teacher

"BABES covers important concepts and the puppets do a good job of keeping students engaged." - Chester County Elementary Teacher

BABES is a primary prevention program for children in Pre-K through second grade, providing an introduction to peer pressure, refusal skills, decision-making and help seeking. The goal of BABES is to help children enjoy happy, healthy, drug-free lives.

BABES Training is helpful for parents, volunteers, teachers, guidance counselors, DARE officers, retired professionals, after-school programs and community organizations.

Certification as a BABES presenter requires completion of a 13 hour training course. This training enables you to present the BABES program to children; it does not certify you to train others. The training course covers: curriculum study, puppet manipulation, story telling techniques, substance abuse in families, reactions to expect from children, and hands-on practice.
